SAFETY FIRST: BE SMART ABOUT HOME CANNING

Canning, as a method of preserving food by placing foods in jars or cans and heating them to a temperature that destroys microorganisms that could be a health hazard or cause the food to spoil, has been around for more than two centuries. Today's methods often have been passed down and evolved through generations, but they all have one thing in common: Preparation. There's a lot of work and time invested in home preservation, and the last thing you want is spoiled food in the end.

Preparation tips:

- Inspect equipment for parts that need replacing, such as rubber seals on pressure canners. Many parts can be ordered from the canner manufacturer.
- Get your pressure gauge checked. Contact your local extension office for a free pressure gauge check.
- Canning jars can be reused, so check for cracks or scratches that could lead to broken or unsealed jars.
- Canning rings can be reused, but once they get rusty or corroded, they should be replaced.
- Canning lids can be used only once. Buy lids now.
- Many online recipes are not safe or accurate. They increase the risk of foodborne illness, particularly botulism. Safe resources include those from State Extension resources, and Ball Mason Canning.

*If you need access to classes, have canning questions, or want to learn more about the "So Easy to Preserve" canning resource, contact your local extension office.

WHO ARE WE:

My name is Jenifer Klaassen. I grew up in the Whitewater area and graduated from Remington High School. I have been in healthcare since 2002. I am a board certified Family Nurse Practitioner with certifications in cancer, advanced life support, genetics, and functional medicine.

My passion has always been to help kids live up to their fullest potential which was hard in traditional medicine so I decided to open my own clinic in March 2025 where care is based on each individual and their needs.

My clinic is a direct care clinic, meaning you pay a monthly membership fee for visits. This takes out the ability of insurance companies to determine what you and your child needs. Insurance can still be used to cover labs, medicines, imaging, etc or I have deeply discounted prices if you don't have insurance. Go to our website or call to make an appointment!

WHAT WE DO:

1. Primary Care- checkups, sick visits, minor procedures, injuries, wounds, etc!
2. Functional Medicine- this is "root cause" medicine. We look into the actual cause of you or your child's concerns and treat them at the root preferably with natural alternatives if possible! Specializing in ADHD, Autism, Stomach issues, headaches, anxiety, and depression.
3. Sports Optimization- Giving athletes the best performance with a free genetic test, genetic based nutrition optimization, and fitness personalization.
4. Youth Weight Management program- Helping those struggling with weight at younger ages to reach their optimal potential through genetics and personal health coaching. This can be too little or too much weight.
5. SOFTWAVE TRT- Like a stem cell injection WITHOUT the injection! This is revolutionary technology meant to treat pain, inflammation, and injury. ALL AGES TREATED FOR SOFTWAVE!

J-TURNS & U-TURNS ARE ILLEGAL ON MAIN

We're seeing too many J-turns on Main Street — that's when a driver cuts across double yellow lines to snag a parking spot on the opposite side. It's illegal, dangerous, and causing near misses.

Double yellow lines mean NO crossing, except to fully turn into a driveway or entrance (with caution and signaling). You CANNOT J-turn or U-turn into angled parking spots — even in front of the Post Office or your favorite business. What to do instead: Approach parking from the correct lane.

Due to repeated violations, Butler County Sheriff's Department will increase enforcement, consider this a WARNING. New signs will be installed to make this even clearer.
